

La Lombricaia

Many guests have asked us about this name. It's part of our history, we found here a worm farm producing organic loam. More than fifteen years ago we decided to call our restaurant La Lombricaia a little bit ironically and in a spirit of continuity with the past. The restaurant, the Agriturismo and the farm Montalbino are the three complementary realities of our project in this place. Genuineness, seasonality, a special attention to the local producers and to the nature, and the constant dedication and commitment are the ingredients of our cuisine. Buon appetito
